The ABCs of School Debt Financing

Workshop Summary

The ABCs of School Debt Financing is a one-day seminar designed for school administrators interested in learning about the use of debt issuance for schools. The workshop will consider aspects of the debt issuance process and administration including the fine-tuning of debt policies, working with oversight committees, the mechanics of school debt financing, and the types of instruments utilized. Participants of the seminar will take from the course a better understanding of important terms, concepts, procedures, and resources associated with school debt financing.

Who Should Attend

This workshop is designed for K-12 school district, county office of education and community college district superintendents and business office personnel. Individuals having input into the decision making process regarding finances of the LEA are encouraged to attend. Remember, there are many funding sources other than the general fund for training on long-term debt, including building funds, Mello-Roos funds, or developer fee funds depending on the purposes for which your funds were established.

About The Presenters

The California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission (CDIAC) will host the seminar, providing both the curriculum and panel of expert speakers. CDIAC is a state commission that provides technical assistance to state and local governments on debt issuance and public investment matters. The ABCs of School Debt Financing seminar speakers include:

Open and welcome remarks:

Executive Director, CDIAC

Facilitator:

Robert Whalen, Stradling, Yocca, Carlson & Rauth

Panelists:

Ruth Alahydoian, Vice President, Kelling, Northcross & Nobriga

Ted Rozzi, Assistant Superintendent, Corona Norco Unified School District

Dawn Vincent, Managing Director, Stone & Youngberg, LLC

Denise Wakefield, Director of Facilities and Planning, Tracy Joint Unified School District
